

Well-Known Families High Sellers for Northeast Sale

Consignments from popular cow families brought premium prices at the third Northeast Jersey Classic and Breeders Sale on April 23, 2016. The sale was held at a new venue this year—Dusty Creek Farm—owned by Gerald and Diane Colvin of Wallingford, Vt. Several, special-pedigreed elite animals were presented tie-up style and a larger group of individuals sold commercial sale style. In all, 273 lots of Registered Jerseys were struck off for an average of $1,429.03 and a gross of $390,125. All but four of the consignments were bred heifers, open yearlings or heifer calves. Thirty-five buyers from 16 states coast-to-coast made purchases.
